New Appointment

Firm's Project Engineering Capabilities Strengthened

Maxwell GeoSystems is pleased to welcome aboard Roberto Prado García as Territory Manager for the United Kingdom & Europe.

With over 10 years of experience in major engineering and construction projects in UK, Europe and the Middle East, Roberto will lead MGS projects in the UK and Europe as well as representing the company and managing relationships with some of our key clients around the world.

During his career, Roberto has specialised in Instrumentation & Monitoring (I&M), Project & Contract Management and Claim & Arbitration processes, gaining his experience in some of the largest and most recent key projects in the civil and Oil & Gas industry.

In addition, Roberto has occupied I&M positions in Crossrail (UK) and in Contract Management for multi-billion dollar LSTK EPC contracts in the Middle East.
