Quantifying benefits of Digitalisation in Tunnel Construction

In the March 2021 edition of T&UC, Dr. Angus Maxwell, CEO and founder of Maxwell GeoSystems and Jacob Grasmick- PhD PE of Maxwell GeoSystems USA, jointly contributed to the topic of digitalisation in tunnel construction, through quantifying tangible and intangible benefits.

The article also mentions the various implementations of digitalisation and describe efforts to combine all data types to analyse the relationships between influences, predictions and performance in a single digital platform.
